Customized Support to Meet Family Needs

Mercer ResourceNet was developed to provide information to families with children and adolescents having emotional and behavioral health care challenges. The network also serves children ages 5-21 with substance abuse, developmental and intellectual disabilities, as well as their families.

Capitol County Children's Collaborative is a non-profit organization providing care management and service planning for children with complex needs. We meet families where they are in their homes, schools and communities focusing on strengths to improve their total well being through:

- An Individualized Service Plan
- Customized supports
- Flexible services
- Increased choice and family independence
- Development of Child and Family Team

Visit our website to learn more about support groups that are available to help families (including parents, grandparents, siblings and extended family members) with challenges of suicide, loss, drug abuse and more.
